

Herd Sire of Champions: Dom Lucilio

Dom Lucilio is the son of two of the most highly regarded gene pools in South America. His famous sire, Accoyo Royal Fawn, has a history of passing on his fine-fibered genetics to his offspring. Dom's full Peruvian Dam, Finesse, owned by Ann Sullivan, has an outstanding production record. With the best of both worlds in his lineage, this American-born herd sire has offspring dominating show rings from coast to coast in every color group. Different judges have selected one of his sons as champion five times. At the 2003 AOBA National Fleece Show, Dom Lucilio's offspring won 14 awards! And he has yet to show his full potential!
